

NACS presents goodie baskets to bus safety coloring contest winners today

Isabella Frick from Perry Hill awarded the grand prize

WHAT: Eight winners, one from each elementary school, are awarded school supplies and a hand-painted beverage container for being selected as having the best coloring contest entry for National School Bus Safety Week which was last week.

WHO: Isabella Frick, 5th grade, Perry Hill Elementary will receive the same goodie basket as the others plus some art supplies to encourage her to continue creating art.

WHEN: 10:30 a.m., Monday, Oct. 25, 2021

WHERE: Perry Hill Elementary School
13121 Coldwater Rd.
Fort Wayne, IN 46845

Use main entrance at Door 1

WHY: Northwest Allen County Schools Transportation Center, with the help of elementary school administrators, introduced a district-wide coloring contest among students in grades kindergarten through 5. The goal was to drive home bus safety messages with students for National School Bus Safety Week which ran Oct. 18-22.

Each day this week a theme of the day is shared during morning announcements at the elementary schools to emphasize different bus safety messages. The awareness week encourages school communities to review bus safety practices among parents, students, teachers, school administrators, motorists and school bus operators.

More information about Perry Hill Elementary School may be found at ph.nacs.k12.in.us. Perry Hill Elementary School is one of 11 schools in Northwest Allen County Schools serving about 8,000 students.
